The Border Horror Show: Top Ten Situations for International Business Lawyers and Their Clients

In the post 9/11 world, crossing the border has become anything but routine. This practical luncheon seminar highlights some of the common border crossing issues immigration counsel see nowadays. Our speakers will explain how to handle (or how NOT to handle) these situations:

- 1) I forgot my passport and my associate didn't realize he needed a visa. How can we get to our consulting job?
- 2) Since when are meetings and training considered "work"?
- 3) I wish I hadn't gotten drunk at that party 4 years ago.
- 4) I should have left my meeting agenda and laptop at home.
- 5) Years ago I was a resident, sure! But now I am a visitor [honest!]
- 6) What business is it of theirs that I didn't tell them about my wife or common law partner?
- 7) If I pay some money can I get across the border faster?
- 8) Yikes! I didn't know I had the same name and birth date as a terrorist!
- 9) No one told me there was more than $10,000.00 in that suitcase!
- 10) My company's exports to Canada are huge, but we can't get our Canadian customers' machines operational or stores fitted. What can we do?
